

Cost of Living Hits New High Level in April

WASHINGTON (UP) — The government reported today that a sharp increase in food prices pushed the cost of living to another new record level in April.

The rise means an automatic 2-cent hourly wage increase for 1,400,000 automotive farmers equipment and electrical workers.

The Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said its consumer price index rose three-tenths of one cent between March and April to 119.4 per cent of average 1947-49 prices.

It was the eighth consecutive month in which the index set a new record.

The April index was 3.8 per cent higher than a year ago.

The two-cent hourly wage increase will go to workers whose wage contracts contain escalator clauses tied to the cost of living index for April. The increase will be paid on June 1, along with an increase of at least 6 cents an hour for workers in the automobile industry as an annual improvement factor.

The BLS said the higher prices for meats and fresh fruit and vegetables were mainly responsible for the rise in consumer prices. Most other major groups of goods and services, except clothing, also registered increases, however.

His Commissioner Evan Claguna said the chances are that the price index will set another new record for May.

Library to Feature Books for Children

Hempstead County Library is featuring an exhibit of Prize-Winning and Honor Books featured by New York Herald Tribune Children's Book Festival.

Six judges selected three outstanding children's books, one in each of three age groups, and twelve titles for honorable mention.

In picture books (ages 4-8) the winner was Madeline and the Bad Hat by Ludwig Bemelmans. The runners-up were Cheerful by Palmer Brown; Kevin by Mary Chambers; The Melloys Go Flying by Toni Ungerer; and The March Wind by Inez Rice with pictures by Vladimir Bobri.

In the middle ages (ages 8-12) the award went to Go Away Lake by Elizabeth Enright with pictures by Beth and Joe Krush. The honor winners were Fleming Arrows by William O. Steele, Hortense, the Cow for a Queen, by Natalie Savage Carlson; Fairwater by Alastair Reid; and Our Friend The Atom by Heinz Haber, illustrated by the Walt Disney Studio.

In the older books (ages 12 and up) the prize winner was Because Of Madeline by Mary Stolz. The honor winners were Don Palmer: Freedom's Apostle by Don Surko; Grilla An Artie Adventure by Albert Viksten; The Shiled Ring by Rosemary Sutcliffe; and The Horse Catcher by Marie Sandoz.

Lenord Weisgard has done the bright poster with Little Red Riding Hood and the Wolf peacefully and happily enjoying books together.

In addition to the Festival books there are many new books on display which will be featured for the remainder of the month.

Blevins Plans Town Meet Monday Night

Blevins will hold a town meeting Monday night at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium for the purpose of organizing a Rural Community Improvement Association.

Mrs. Lorraine Wylie and Oliver Adams will be present and will show a movie "When Neighbors Meet." Everyone is urged to be present for this meeting.

Mrs. A. B. Spraggins' Mother Succumbs

Friends here will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. A. B. Spraggins, mother of Mrs. A. B. Spraggins, of this city.

Mrs. A. B. Spraggins was 97 years old. Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. today at First Baptist Church of El Dorado.

Public Asked to Buy Poppies Saturday

The bright red poppy you'll be invited to wear on Poppy Day May 25th, is a replica of the Flanders' Field poppy of World War fame. It is America's way of commemorating its war dead, from the Argonne to Korea, and a way to help America's disabled veterans to take care of their own families. So don't let the parade of paper poppies pass you by. Wear one, as a practical way to give to those who gave for you.

U. S., Russia Talk Treaty to Disarm

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is trying to negotiate with Russia a disarmament treaty which would ban all nuclear weapons for all except the three powers that already have them. They are the United States, Russia and Britain.

This was reported on excellent authority today as Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's disarmament negotiator, carried toward conclusion a round of Cabinet-level conferences on the next American move to be made in the London disarmament talks.

Stassen takes part later today in a meeting at the State Department with Secretary Dulles and top officials of the Defense Department, Atomic Energy Commission and other key agencies.

He plans to leave Sunday afternoon for the resumption of London negotiations Monday. In succeeding days there, he will put forward the new U. S. decisions to the representatives of Russia, Britain, France and Canada, who makes up the United Nations disarmament subcommittee.

Stassen took part yesterday in a meeting of the national security council under President Eisenhower's direction. He and Dulles later reported to Senate leaders on the status of negotiations and on the developing United States policy.

Stassen told the senators this country is involved in a "serious negotiation" on what he called a "first step agreement" for limited disarmament.

If such an agreement succeeds, presumably later negotiations could broaden it, perhaps to include limitations on nuclear weapons for the big powers.

This typical scene will be re-enacted many times at the Hope swimming pool after it's official opening Saturday morning at 9 o'clock. These six young ladies were persuaded to pose for this picture to announce the pool's opening. They are: Judy Franks and Mary Ann Hall in the foreground, Caroline Cox behind Judy with Mary Enler cooling her feet in the pool and Betty Jo Cox with the towel and Jan Robison combing her hair.

Coach John Pierce will be manager of the pool with Albert Graves Jr. as Asst. manager. Life guards this year will be Jimmy Chambliss, Johnny Graves, David Watkins, Don Boothe, Kay Kent and Gail Cook. Kay will give swimming lessons again this year, starting about June 15. Tommy Polk and Jimmy May will work in the office.

Coach Pierce announced that the pool would be open from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m. and be closed from 12 noon until 1:30 for the lunch hour. This schedule will be for Monday thru Saturday. Sundays the pool will be open from 2 p. m. until 6 p. m. Admission will be 25c for students and 50c for adults. Season tickets may be purchased at the pool office; $5.00 for students and $7.50 for adults.

Sees Further Policy Control by Congress

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Senate Democrats predicted today President Eisenhower's foreign aid program will undergo "drastic revision" to give Congress more control over spending abroad.

That view came from senators Mansfield (D-Mont) and Humphrey (D-Minn) as the Senate Foreign Relations Committee of which both are members continued public hearings on the $3,805,000,000 program.

The group called Asst. Secretary of Defense Mansfield D. Sprague to learn details of the administration's requests for $1,900,000,000 of military aid and $900,000,000 of economic support for countries with which the United States has defense pacts.

Both Mansfield and Humphrey spoke favorably of the over-all program, but Mansfield said "there will be changes to assure Congress retains its annual review of the whole program."

Humphrey, referring specifically to a proposed development loan fund, said "the bill must be changed in some way so that Congress will know in advance to what countries and for what purposes the loans are to be made. I know it's a problem," he added, "but we can't give unlimited authority and keep Congress in the dark."

Under Eisenhower's plan, much of the program would be authorized this year on a continuing basis, rather than for a year at a time.

Testifying yesterday, Director John B. Hollister of the International Cooperation Administration urged the committee to approve making future appropriations for military and economic assistance available for "obligation indefinitely."

KILLED ACCIDENTALLY

BATESVILLE, (UP) — Odie Miller, 72, a retired farmer was killed when his shotgun discharged as he was returning from crow hunting on his farm 16 miles northwest of here yesterday.

Sheriff Burton Arnold said Miller apparently died instantly from the blast of the 12 gauge gun which went off when he apparently stumbled. The charge struck him in the heart.

Miller's wife and a brother heard the shot and rushed to find him only about 20 yards from the house.

Congressional Battle on Over Defense Slash

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (UP) — The battle over a proposed 2½-billion dollar slash in new defense funds was waged in House and Senate today.

House leaders opened debate on a $3,541,225,000 defense money measure carrying some 2½ billion less than President Eisenhower requested for the fiscal year starting July 1. No votes were expected until next week, perhaps Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Chairman Chavez (D-NM) called top Army leaders before his Senate Appropriations subcommittee. Secretary of the Army Brucker and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff were line up to present the Army's case for more money.

"We are not going to jeopardize the national defense," Chavez told newsmen in advance of the hearing.

"I'm rather partial to air power but I'll have to be satisfied they need every penny."

Sen. Ellender (D-La) said in a separate interview he is convinced defense agencies could absorb the 2½ billion dollar cut recommended by the House Appropriations Committee — "and more if they just wanted to do it."

White-Hatched Secretary of Defense Wilson joined yesterday in the fight to avoid major cuts in defense outlays.

He agreed the services could take more than a billion dollars off the proposed cut, classifying this portion a bookkeeping matter. "But he insisted repeatedly that more than a billion should be restored. Otherwise, he said, this country's missile, aircraft and warship programs would be affected adversely."

Wilson termed it wishful thinking to say "we can get ahead with a billion less now." He noted that labor and other costs have risen 12 to 13 per cent in three years.

There has been speculation that Wilson may resign after the defense money bill has cleared Congress.

At one point Wilson said laudily: "Sooner or later the job is going to be open and all these people who want to save five billion dollars a year can step up and try it."

Girl Scout Day Camp Is Announced

Mrs. Roy Allison, chairman of the annual Girl Scout Day camp, announced plans for this year's camp to be held May 27, through 31st. Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday the hours will be from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m.

Wednesday and Friday camp will be held from 2 to 8 p.m. Wednesday night the individual troops will have cook-outs, and on Friday the Girl Scout committee will entertain the scouts and brownies with supper from 6 till 7 p.m. Following the supper the public is invited to a program presented by members of the camp and to see the display of articles completed.

The Brownies will be taught handicraft, first aid, dancing and singing.

Mrs. John Keck will teach handicraft; Mrs. H. D. Lester, First Aid; Mrs. Charles Nelms, assisted by a group of advance Girl Scouts will teach dancing; Mrs. Henry Seamon will teach singing; Mrs. Herbert Burns will be the nurse on duty. Mrs. Ed Justice is chairman of the committee supper.

The Day Camp is an annual event sponsored by the Girl Scout Committee, Mrs. L. B. Tooley chairman.

All Americans were advised to stay off the streets.

Those who were trapped in the embassy when the attacks started were beaten off by the rioters. An embassy official reported later all were removed to safety. He said their injuries were not believed serious.

Two of the Americans injured in the attack on the embassy were hospitalized. They were the press attache, Alexander Bonso, who was seriously but not critically beaten; and a security officer, Carl Ackerman, who was hit on the head but not seriously injured.

Macine Sgt. William Sutton was sent home after receiving six stitches.

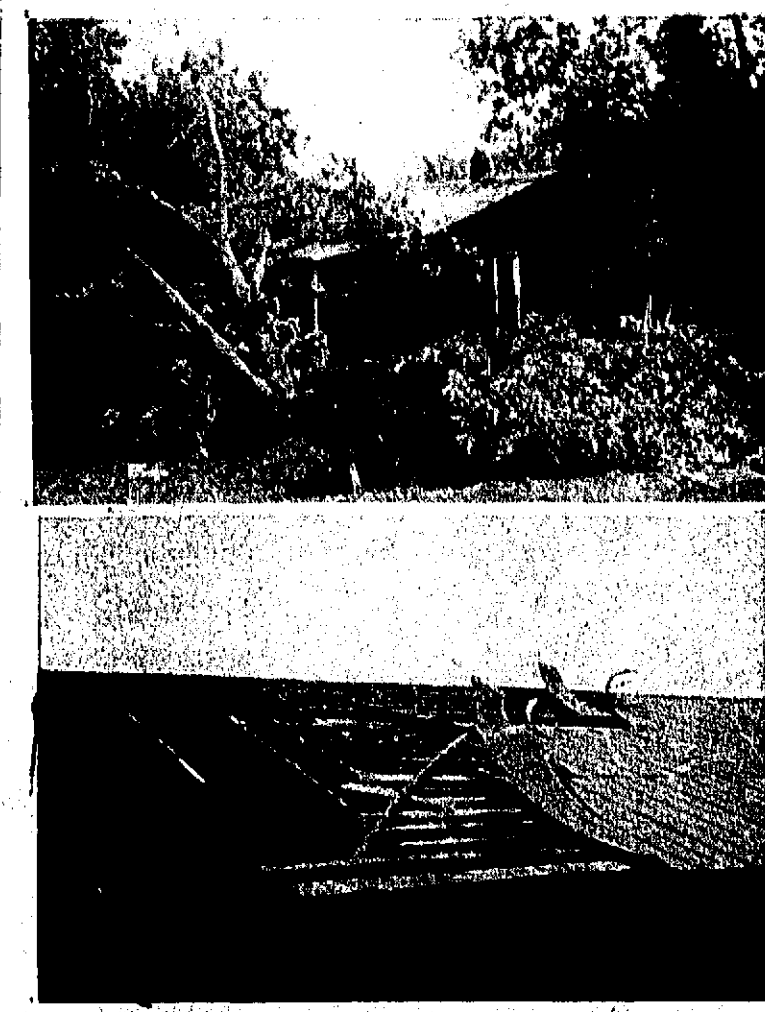

Other embassy personnel injured were counselor Paul Meyer, cuts and bruises; Helen Voseika, roughed up; administrative officer Howard Chaille, and messenger Frank Nesel, both slight injuries.

Most of the embassy personnel were away for lunch at the time of the attack, and those inside avoided more serious injury, by taking refuge in the air raid shelter.

Most Americans encountering the mob in the streets escaped, but some were injured.

Wind, Rain Damaging

HIGH WINDS and rain left some damage in this area as the above pictures will show. The top picture shows the John Nivens home on Highway 29, north, on the Archie Smith place. The big pecan smashed in the porch. Mrs. Nivens and children decided they were safer in the car than in the house. Mr. Nivens came in from work and backed the car from under the tree just as it fell. The bottom photo shows a barn on the Lee Norton farm six miles north on the old Elvins road. Trees were uprooted in the area.

Mostly damage was confined to roofs. Many trees were uprooted throughout the county and several bridges were reported out. The worst casualty was the Buck Mosler home on Melrose lane which was destroyed by fire attributed to the storm which blew limbs across electrical lines.

Chinese Wreck U. S. Embassy on Formosa

By ROBERT BROWN
UP Staff Correspondent

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP) — Chinese mobs wrecked the United States embassy and other buildings, burned embassy cars and beat up at least nine Americans in a series of riots today. The nationalist government imposed limited martial law tonight.

The rioters, inflamed over the acquittal of an American soldier by a U. S. army court martial for the slaying of a Chinese peeping tom, overran and wrecked even the Taipei police station.

They also smashed the offices of the United States Information Service and attempted to storm the headquarters of the U. S. military advisory group.

Nationalist police stood by without acting when a few hundred persons started demonstrating in front of the embassy. But this small crowd soon swelled to a mob of about 10,000 and an orgy of violence began.

Belatedly the police moved in to stop the rioting and arrested a number of demonstrators. Their friends stormed the police station in an effort to free them.

Two Chinese rioters were killed when police opened fire during the attack on the police station. One was identified as Wu Meliao, 28, a Chinese student from San Francisco. It was not definite, but he was believed to be an American citizen. Another student from San Francisco, Ling Kwei-Chi, 22, was seriously injured.

The government tonight declared martial law in all areas where American installations and homes are located.

All Americans were advised to stay off the streets.

Those who were trapped in the embassy when the attacks started were beaten off by the rioters. An embassy official reported later all were removed to safety. He said their injuries were not believed serious.

Near-Tornado Winds Strike Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ferocious winds, some believed to be tornadoes, battered weather-groggry south Arkansas yesterday, causing widely scattered damage but no injuries.

In comparatively quiet north Arkansas a youth lost his life yesterday as a possible indirect result of previous storms.

Spindling bursts of hail and drizzling rains accompanied the fierce winds.

The most savage blow fell on the southeast Arkansas town of Monticello well outside a southwest Arkansas area which was under a tornado alert for several hours last night.

A roaring wind believed to be a tornado smashed into Monticello, tore the roof and steeple from a church and stripped roofs from an orphanage dormitory and a downtown office building.

Eighty persons attending a music recital in the First Baptist Church at Monticello escaped injury. So did 50 boys who lived in the 2-story brick building at the Vera Lloyd Presbyterian Home for children.

Many residents said they heard a deafening roar as the wind out a swath of destruction in the town of 5,000.

Truckload of Hogs Hit Courthouse

MAGNOLIA, (AP) — A 1½-ton truck, loaded with about 100 hogs, crashed into the Columbia County courthouse here early today, injuring the driver and killing several of the hogs.

Some of the animals were thrown through first and second-story windows of the courthouse building. The survivors roamed the streets.

Authorities said the driver, identified as J. W. Roach, 33 of Mount Pleasant, Tex., was hospitalized. His condition was reported as fair.

The truck, traveling U. S. Highway 82, struck the courthouse square curbing and flipped end over end, smashing into the granite building.

One of the hogs thrown through a second-floor window landed in a hall outside the courtroom.

Police said two of the hogs later were killed by early morning traffic.

MEMPHIAN DROWNS

MARION, (AP) — Wilburn Turner of Memphis drowned in an arm of the Mississippi River near here yesterday. Police said Turner apparently fell from his boat while fishing.

New Storms in Southwest Are Threatened

By United Press

A nearly stationary clash of air masses threatened new storms today in the hail, rain and tornado battered Southwest.

Winds up to 73 m.p.h. swept a river of rain and hail across north central Texas, causing flooding in Dallas and Fort Worth, uprooting trees and knocking out power lines.

Tornadoes ripped sections of Arkansas, one shredding the roof and steeple of a church at Monticello only moments after 80 persons had fled to safety. Other twisters hit at Glenwood and Conway, Ark.

The week long on slough of violent storms has killed at least 56 persons, most of them in Missouri. Thirty-nine persons were killed in a massive twister that struck Kansas City Monday night, and 14 persons died in other Missouri tornadoes.

Among the latest victims were a Doniphon, Mo., man who drowned yesterday when his truck was swept away by floodwaters, and an Indiana man who drowned in the rain-swollen Ohio River near New Washington, Ind. The Indiana victim was the state's second weather fatality.

Elsewhere, heavy rains throughout the Midlands sent the Missouri, Ohio and Mississippi rivers surging toward flood crest. Floods in streams in southern Illinois forced some 100 families from their homes.

The prolonged wet weather has delayed farmers from working in their fields in the Midwest and Plains States. Oklahoma authorities estimated crop damage in that state alone in the millions of dollars.

Heavy rains yesterday soaked Texas, Arkansas, southern Missouri, eastern Oklahoma, southern Illinois, southern Indiana and western Kentucky.

Dallas was hit by a 3.78 inch rainfall in a few hours yesterday, and Fort Worth was swamped by a 2.28-inch deluge. Power was knocked out in sections of Dallas and Marshall.

Tornadoes swirled through the air over Mount Pleasant, Tyler and San Saba, Tex., and near Shreveport, La., but they apparently caused no damage. Charles McCarthy, United Press news pictures manager in Dallas, said the rain there "looked as if it were almost a river running through the sky."

Other severe gains last night hit Little Rock, Ark., with more than 10 inches of water, while Memphis and Pine Bluff, Ark., reported more than an inch. Thunder showers along the Gulf Coast dumped more than four inches of moisture at Mobile, Ala.

Major rises were reported

THE BEST CROWD TO FOLLOW IS THE CROWD GOING TO CHURCH

There's No Evil There Except What You Carry With You

HONOR THY FAMILY

...for how much you owe them! Certainly, you can never pay the debt incurred in the years of childhood. Money cannot pay for the night vigil by your bedside in the time of illness... nor for the wise instruction given you. You inherit the blood which flows through your body. You are forever a part of the body and mind of those who gave you birth. You owe a debt to life. Please pay some of it to your parents. Go to Sunday School and church with them, for life is of a piece and we belong to each other. You dare not dishonor your father, or mother, or family... or you dishonor yourself. If you neglect them the next generation will pass you by.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church, the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCHGOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Revised Plans for Bridge at Helena

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. - Revised plans for construction of the long-proposed Mississippi River bridge at Helena were received by the Highway Department from planning engineers at Kansas City today.
If the plans are approved by the Bureau of Public Roads, the Highway Commission will advertise for bids even though financing details have not been completed.
The commission recently authorized the unusual step of asking for bids before funds for the bridge are in sight on ground that a clearer picture of needs would be possible after it was known just what the total for the joint Arkansas-Mississippi enterprise would be.

Arkansas Records First Polio Death

LITTLE ROCK, (UP) - The first polio death of 1957 in Arkansas was reported today by the state Board of Health. It was a paralytic case in Quenchita County. The morbidity report for the week ending last Saturday also showed five new cases of polio in Arkansas, bringing the total for the year to 15, or two above the 13 cases reported at the same time last year. It was the first time this year the number of new polio cases exceeded those of last year. Miller, Ouachita, and rural Pulaski counties had one paralytic case each, and Cross and Independence counties had one non-paralytic case each for the week. The state had only one new case of polio the previous week and only one new case the corresponding week a year ago.

have not been completed. The commission recently authorized the unusual step of asking for bids before funds for the bridge are in sight on ground that a clearer picture of needs would be possible after it was known just what the total for the joint Arkansas-Mississippi enterprise would be.

Ham and Beef Pushed in Big Markets

By The Associated Press

Ham will vie with beef for the shopper's attention in many super-markets and neighborhood grocery stores this weekend.

Rising beef prices have paved the way for other meats to take over the featured spot on the weekly "special" lists. This week it's hams' turn in many places. However, and one eastern chain is featuring live lobster at 69 cents a pound. It's a repeat of a successful sale of lobsters at the same price last week.

Most of the beef offered as a special, in fact, is one or another of the various chuck cuts. These less-expensive cuts include roasts, pot roasts, and steaks—all from the chuck portions.

Agriculture Department experts expect the total supply of beef in the second half of the year to be smaller than the last year which ordinarily means somewhat higher prices.

Housewives can take cheer, however, from reports that vegetable canner's warehouses last month had stocks up 63 per cent over a year earlier. This is expected to mean bargains in canned vegetables in the next month or so.

Among the fresh vegetables, outstanding buys can be had this week among new cabbage from fields in Virginia and North and South Carolina, Boston and Romaine varieties of lettuce, radishes, spinach and Maine potatoes from last fall's big crop.

Beans from Southern fields are reported to be a good buy, although showing a wide range of quality and condition.

Beets, bunched carrots, western iceberg lettuce, the first celery from New Jersey fields, new potatoes from the South and the gradually lessening supplies of Idaho potatoes also are rated as good buys.

So are cucumbers, which brings to mind the fact that this week has been designated National Pickle Week. You may not have realized it, but this is the 10th year a week has been set aside for pickles.

Rhubarb, at the height of its season, is rated as an outstanding fruit buy. In the good buy category are Valencia and navel oranges; grapefruit and increasing supplies of watermelon. The first Texas beauty plums—yellowish-red with a green background—also are in the markets, but they are still in the luxury class in most places.

Laundry Workers Ousted by AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON, (UP)—The AFL-CIO high command today ousted the 85,000-member Laundry Workers Union on corruption charges. It put two other international unions on one-year probation.

The Laundry Workers, and the other two unions—the Distillery Workers and the Allied Industrial Workers—were involved in welfare fund abuses uncovered by a Senate committee in 1954-55.

They had been instructed by the AFL-CIO executive council last February to clean house or face suspension at the council's current meeting.

The council today suspended the laundry workers from the AFL-CIO and said it will recommend expulsion of the union at the AFL-CIO convention in December. On grounds the union has not complied "in good faith" with the is no small moment in the life of a man.

Another recent incident is the suicide in Cairo of Mr. Norman, the Canadian ambassador to Egypt, whose self-destruction is alleged to have been caused by imputations against his loyalty by a U. S. investigating committee.

Canadian authorities who had entirely cleared Mr. Norman of any such charge have bitterly attacked the action of the committee, and U. S. newspapers have assailed an official of the committee for his reckless citing of the charge. Prominent individual Canadians have not hesitated to call it murder.

That, also, is reckless; for responsibility for his suicide was on Norman himself. But it is clear that an injustice and a suicide might have been prevented if there had been any Abrahamian regard for a man's possible innocence, or if he had been given proper opportunity to defend himself.

In fact, proper investigation and consultation with the Canadian authorities might have prevented the unfortunate occurrence, for which the distinguished members of the investigating committee have been forced to make a very lame excuse.

I did not know this Mr. Norman, but as a fellow student I was well acquainted with his father, Dr. Dan Norman, before he went as a missionary to Japan. If the younger man, despite the weakness of his suicide, possessed any degree of the character of his father, his tragic end, and the incidents that seem to have followed it, are all the more deplorable.

These are only a part of the many incidents that emphasize the unjust, and even inhuman, aspects of the hasty, rough and ready methods of taking action against crime and for the protection of society; action that is both right and necessary, but that ought to call for scrupulous care where innocent individuals may be irreparably wronged.

In fact, such action is apt to be all the more effective when it is scrupulously fair.

So, it seems we have still much to learn from Abraham.

Crush on Married Man? Try Meeting His Wife

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have a suggestion for girls who become interested in married men. As a career girl, I had the same temptation myself, but through this method I was able to overcome them. Today I am a happy wife and mother, but I could easily have become just another woman with a past.

Use every effort to get acquainted with the wife in the case. Use some of your own charm on her, instead of her husband. Make her like and trust you, and you'll soon be admiring her.

Almost always the wife who has been described to you as a cold, selfish creature turns out to be charming, and seeing your admirer in his own domestic surroundings will usually take the glow out of the romance.

I've recommended this system to several girls and it hasn't failed yet.

Dear Edie: Letter received, contents noted and passed on. If your words of wisdom keep just one girl from believing that old fairy tale, "My wife doesn't understand me," it will be worth your effort in writing it.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Last month my sister-in-law and two children visited us for four days. I entertained them over the weekend, but on Monday had to go to work. I left plenty of cooked food in the house and my husband and I took them out and entertained for them in the evening.

Now I understand she is criticizing my behavior in going to work. Should I have stayed home at the risk of losing my job?

FANNY
Dear Fanny: In entertaining guests, even one's in-laws, you can only do your best. Your sister-in-law was very silly to expect you to do more under the circumstances. She'd probably find something to criticize even if you had stayed home. Don't brood over it.

The man whose case aroused Chinese anger, M-Sgt. Robert G. Reynolds, of Colorado, Md., and his family were whisked by plane to Clark Air Force base in the Philippines. He was protected by U. S. military police from mobs which tried to lynch him before he left Taipei.

(An Air Force spokesman at Manila said Reynolds and his family were scheduled to leave Clark AFB for the United States tonight.)

So far as American military justice is concerned, Reynolds is a free man as result of his acquittal yesterday. He cannot be tried again for his life since that would place him in double jeopardy—a violation of the U. S. Constitution.

Although there is no apparent rule against double jeopardy in Chinese law, Yeh's demand that he be tried again no doubt will be ignored.

Ike Would Prevent Anti-Segregation

WASHINGTON, (UP)—President Eisenhower has asked his House leaders to prevent, at any cost, an anti-segregation amendment from being added to the proposed $1,500,000,000 school construction program, it was learned today.

Eisenhower has requested that the effort to keep the amendment out of the legislation be made an issue of Republican party loyalty.

The president has publicly said the segregation issue should not be entangled with the school construction program. Last year such an amendment helped kill the legislation.

But he has not previously intimated he wanted the issue handled as one of party loyalty. He sent this word to his congress-

AFL-CIO Study Democratic Procedures

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (UP)—The AFL-CIO may come up with an answer today to congressional complaints about lack of democratic procedure in labor unions.

The Federation's Executive Council was due to finish work on a new code of principles aimed at insuring rights of union members. Senate Rackets Committee hearings have produced testimony on "rigged" union elections and poor attendance at union meetings.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, told newsmen yesterday that failure of union members to attend meetings was "one of the outstanding problems in the trade union movement today."

He said poor attendance encourages misuse of union funds by dishonest officials.

"I think it's partly due to the change in the way we live in this country," Meany said, blaming radio and television programs, automobiles and other leisure time diversions for attracting union members away from meetings.

"It creates a situation where a small group who do attend meetings feel they are the only ones interested in the union's affairs and they run it like they please," Meany said.

A few days ago, George Harrison, an AFL-CIO vice president, suggested that unions fine members for absences from meetings without a valid excuse. Meany said that might be one solution.

The AFL-CIO Council yesterday adopted a code of accounting practice and rules for handling union funds. Meany said if these had been adopted previously, it would have "very definitely prevented" the alleged misuses of Teamsters' Union funds. The new code bars union loans to union officers or to firms with which a union has labor dealings.

The Senate Rackets group has charged Teamsters President Dave Beck with misusing more than $300,000 in union funds. As a result of these allegations, Beck has been ousted as an AFL-CIO vice president and as a Council member.

Last night, the District Area Council of Teamsters, representing more than 9,500 truck drivers in Washington and vicinity, demanded Beck's removal as Teamster president "until such time as he can purge himself or clean up the mess."

Earlier, a New York local of the Teamsters' Union announced a membership meeting had voted to instruct its 13 delegates to the union's convention in Miami Beach next fall to vote against Beck's re-election.

The AFL-CIO Council also was due to decide today whether three affiliated unions have cleaned up alleged corrupt conditions to avoid threatened suspension. The unions are the Allied Industrial Workers, Laundry Workers and Distillery Workers.

The last of the British Royal Airforce waterborne fighting aircraft, the Sunderland, has been retired. In World War 2 the German U-boat commanders called it the "Flying Porcupine" because it carried so many guns.

senior lieutenants as the bill neared a forthcoming fight in the House Rules committee and on the house floor.

Rep. Adam Clayton Powell Jr. (D-N.Y.) has announced he will ask the House to prohibit use of any of the funds by school districts operating segregated schools.

Proclamation

To all to whom these presents shall come: Greetings:

WHEREAS, the population of our nation is rapidly expanding, and with it the need for more and more industrial and urban facilities; and, WHEREAS, increasingly acute water shortages across our state and nation have served to focus attention on the way in which we are caring for our soil and water resources; and,

WHEREAS, Arkansas' seventy-five Soil Conservation Districts along with 2700 Districts in America have done a splendid job in helping farmers take better care of our land and water assets; and,

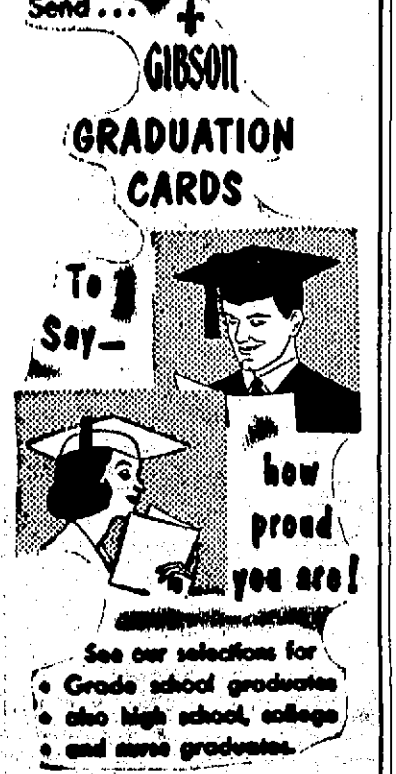

WHEREAS, this responsibility is too great to be borne by our farmers alone and is a problem to be faced by all Americans; and,

WHEREAS, Churches of many faiths have expressed their desire to help awaken us to a solemn awareness of our dependence on and responsibility for the soil of our land;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Orval E. Fabus, Governor of the State of Arkansas, do hereby proclaim the period of May 26-June 2, 1937, as "SOIL STEWARDSHIP WEEK" and do call upon all our citizens to solemnly contemplate and reflect upon our dependence upon our soil and water for our abundant life, and urge that each one of us may resolve that we will be mindful that our stewardship thereof will be accountable to coming generations.

Redlegs Still Chirping, Take Cards 6 to 2
By TIM MORIARTY
UP Spirits Writer

Manager Birdie Tebbetts of the Cincinnati Redlegs was really chirping today over the sudden emergence of southpaw Don Gross as a starting pitcher.

Strapped for pitching talent three weeks ago, Tebbetts pulled Gross out of the bullpen and started working him into Cincinnati's regular rotation. It was a move that could lead the Redlegs to their first National League pennant since 1940.

Since getting his big chance, Gross had posted four straight victories for the front-running Redlegs, including a 6-2 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals last night that enabled Cincinnati to open a two-game lead over the idle Milwaukee Braves.

What's the story behind the front-runner Redlegs, including a 6-2 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals last night that enabled Cincinnati to open a two-game lead over the idle Milwaukee Braves.

What's the story behind the sudden success of a pitcher who was farmed out to Havana last year "for experience," and now has allowed only 24 hits and seven earned runs in his last four games?

According to Tebbetts Gross, with the help of Coach Tom Ferrick, had learned to throw a change-up pitch almost overnight.

"The story of every successful pitcher is the story of one extra pitch he needed to win," explained Tebbetts. "Many were made by finding it. For instance, Earl Hubble with his screwball, Elroy Face with his forkball, and Bob Friend and Hal Jeffcoat with their sliders."

"This change-up pitch could make Gross," the articulate Cincinnati manager added hopefully.

In last night's game - the only scheduled major league contest - Manager Fred Hutchinson shook up the slumping Cardinals by switching Third Baseman Ken Voyser to Centerfield, moving Shortstop Eddie Kasko to third, and using Eddie Miksis in right field.

But with Gross tossing that change-up pitch, the Cardinals looked helpless in suffering their fifth straight defeat. Gross allowed only three hits until the ninth when he gave up singles to Don Blasingame, Stan Musial and Wally Moon.

Moon's single with two out scored Blasingame and extended his hitting streak through 16 straight games. Taking no chances, Tebbetts then yanked Gross in favor of Tom Acker, who retired pinch-hitter Joe Cunningham on a game-ending liner to right fielder Wally Post.

The Redlegs, meanwhile, had rapped loser Lindy McDaniel for five runs in the third inning. Post's two-run homer and a two-run single by Roy McMillan featured the big inning. Musial homered in the fourth inning, while Post knocked in Cincinnati's sixth run with a single in the sixth.

International Boxing Club and Madison Square Garden will stage a 17-hit, 10-7 victory over the Dodgers last night in a benefit exhibition game.

Heavyweight Title Fight Again Talked
NEW YORK (AP) - A title defense by heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson against Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson at the Polo Grounds in late July again was in the talking stage today.

Loupe Breidbart, Jackson's manager, said he was willing to accept 20 per cent of the over-all gate, including an estimated $176,000 for television with a local black-out.

However, Breidbart said his attorney had been informed by Emil Le nce, independent promoter named by Patterson's manager to run the show, that Jackson would have to agree to a rematch if he should win the title. "This latest demand and a request that part of Jackson's purse be held in escrow for a possible return was a holding up the show pending further conferences."

Calls for Traffic Violations Crackdown
LITTLE ROCK (UP) - The Arkansas Automobile Club yesterday called for an immediate crack-down on traffic violations.

Directors of the club, meeting here, urged stricter enforcement of all traffic laws, and stiffer penalties on moving violations, particularly speeding and reckless driving.

"It's time to stop pussyfooting with the 10 per cent that has no business behind the wheel," said club President Henry W. Russell. "The club also announced that it would, if necessary, wage motor-

Akins Favored to Beat Beecham
WASHINGTON (AP) - Virgil Akins, the St. Louis veteran, was an early 7-5 favorite to defeat Jimmy Beecham of Miami in their 10-round welterweight bout at Capitol Arena tonight.

Support for the 22-year-old Beecham rested on conquests of the once highly regarded Hector Constantine and on recent creditable performances. But it wasn't enough to offset the liking for Akins' experience and punching ability.

Akins, 29, is fourth or fifth-ranked challenger for Carmen Basilio's welter crown, depending on whom you consult. Ring Magazine or the National Boxing Assn. Beecham is unranked. A saving for recognition prompted him to take the Akins fight on short notice.

All things new of the U of A's athletic plant are designed with one main idea: Functionalism, with one exception, there is nothing real fancy.

The new field house, a huge thing, shows the result of that planning. It also houses Mitchell's office, along with those of Barnhill and all others in the athletic department. The offices, which were occupied last week for the first time, are real nice but not plush.

But its a slightly different thing at Wilson Sharpe House: the dormitory which houses the athletes. It has just about everything and is first class.

The reason: When some allstar is undecided between Arkansas and some other school, it probably helps the U of A's cause a bit to take him on a tour of the building that could be his home for four years.

Everything considered, the U of A facilities now rank with the best. Amazing when you remember that only four years ago the Razorbacks had almost nothing and appeared to be heading nowhere.

University Has Full House of Grid Material
By JIMMY ATKINSON
(Editors Note - The following was written for the Associated Press; Atkinson is sports editor of the Pine Bluff Commercial.)

John Barnhill grew up at Tennessee, then as now a power in the Southeastern Conference. The Volunteers, again then as now, were four and a-deep with good ball players.

Jack Mitchell came out of the University of Oklahoma. Same situation. Top-notch football talent all over the campus.

It's easy to understand, then, that the accent is on material - lots of material - at the University of Arkansas. Both Barnhill, as athletic director, and Mitchell, as head grid coach, must feel sort of half-dressed when the athletic dorm isn't full to the brim with good-looking prospects.

And so it is that almost every close observer of the Fayetteville scene will take one look at the spring grid roster and declare that there is more material at the University of Arkansas right now than ever before.

Most of those same observers will take a peek at the players listed as halfbacks and use those positions as an example of how well-stocked the Porkers are.

Even the most casual of sports page readers won't need any background on these boys: Donnie Stone, Don Horton, Don Ritschel, Tommy Bach, Jim Moolty, Billy Kyser, Joe Paul Alberty, Perry Arnez and Mike Conney, the latter a quarterback until a couple of weeks ago.

If the names, themselves, aren't impressive enough, try this: Stone, Horton, Ritschel and Conney will be juniors this fall. The others will be sophomores.

Not a senior among the first eight halfbacks.

Mitchell, in typical coaching fashion, makes a half-hearted attempt to minimize the depth angle at Arkansas.

"Are we really as deep as some persons believe?" he asked in answer to a reporter's comment along that line.

Always a great one to turn an interview around, he asked another question: "If we do have depth up here, it is because we had it, or because we risked getting hurt by attempting to develop it?"

That, this reporter believes, was his way of admitting that at times the Razorbacks played some boys who maybe shouldn't even have been on traveling squad.

The Porker coach, at first a bit alarmed at the small area from which nearly all razorbacks come, now apparently has decided that quality may compensate to some degree for the rather slim territory the Hogs can call their own.

Independent Promoters Have Hope

NEW YORK (AP) - Independent boxing promoters today saw a crack of light in what for years had been a very black world.

The crack was opened by Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan during yesterday's hearings in the government's case against the Independent fight promoters at a fixed reasonable fee.

He indicated during testimony by IBC Secretary Truman Gibson that he may direct New York's famous Eighth Avenue Sports arena to "open its doors" to independent fight promoters at a fixed reasonable fee.

The government, in a civil action, is seeking to dissolve the boxing empire of James J. Norris and his associates. Norris, who heads both the Garden and the IBC, his partner Arthur Wirtz, the Garden and the International Boxing Clubs of New York and Chicago are the defendants.

The last time an independent promoter took his show into the Garden was 20 years ago when the late Mike Jacobs staged a Joe Louis-Bob Pastor fight. Subsequently Jacobs and the Garden became partners.

"I am heading in the direction of a decree that will compel Madison Square Garden to lease the Garden to any promoter for a championship fight at a fixed, reasonable rental," Judge Ryan said.

one main idea: Functionalism, with one exception, there is nothing real fancy.

The new field house, a huge thing, shows the result of that planning. It also houses Mitchell's office, along with those of Barnhill and all others in the athletic department. The offices, which were occupied last week for the first time, are real nice but not plush.

Strike on Dempsey's Restaurant Ends
NEW YORK (AP) - A strike against former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey's Broadway restaurant has ended after 10 months of picketing.

In announcing the settlement City Labor Commissioner Harold A. Felix said both sides "made concessions" in a dispute over wages, welfare, pensions and vacations. No terms were disclosed.

The strikers were members of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union.

"I have the power to direct that there be a compulsory rental on a reasonable basis and I am inclined to think I should exercise that power," he added.

And if this were not enough to gladden the hearts of the independents, Judge Ryan went on, "and if a promoter cannot get a reasonable basis, he should be able to come to court and ask the court to fix a reasonable rental basis."

This would put teeth in a move to curtail all the IBC's far-flung operations. The judge's comments indicated that such outdoor sites as Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds would also be available for independently promoted championship fights. The IBC has held exclusive contracts to these two sites.

Judge Ryan hinted he is close to a decision before he adjourned proceedings until Wednesday.
